STUDENTS TAKE ANNUAL HIKE

Annual Walk-Out Enjoyed by Both Faculty and Students of Number Five, October 19.

No doubt all students of last year remember the good time they had in the woods northeast of Maryville, October 22, 1915. The students this year determined upon a good time of the same sort. This is what they did. They assembled on the campus at eight o'clock Wednesday morning, October 18. Yes, indeed! the Faculty opened their eyes when they found themselves staring into space in their empty classrooms. However, a student committee soon brought these same faculty members to the scene, and when they saw the tin-cups and heard the money jingling they realized that it was "Walk-out" day. After Jim Carpenter had taken a picture of the group, the crowd marched via Seventh and Mulberry streets and the Wabash Railroad track to the picnic grounds northeast of Maryville. What happened to the Training School children? Oh, they had carried little notes to their mothers the night before, saying that there would be no school, and explaining why.

Several of the boys took ropes to the grounds and after putting up swings began their tiresome work of swinging girls. Various games were played. Perhaps the newest and most interesting of these were played with kodaks. At least, they attracted the most attention. Suffice it to say, that Jim was kept busy selling films.

At the noon hour the students built two large camp fires over which to roast weiners and bacon and cook coffee. Then that long line of students filed slowly and impatiently past the eatables to get their share of lettuce sandwiches, baked beans, pickles, bacon, olives, cheese, crackers, cookies, apples, peaches, cider, and coffee. The Bee Hive Shoe Store sent the peaches and the students' yelling at the time of their arriving showed hearty appreciation of the gift.

A literary program was the main feature of the afternoon session. Don Roberts presided. President Richardson was called upon first for an extemporaneous speech and responded with one entirely too short. Every one joined in singing the school song, "Come, Missouri." Then different members of the student

C. H. Belting, head of the department of Agriculture, and Miss Hettie M. Anthony, head of the department of Home Economics, attended the Union township exhibit held in Pickering, October 21. The different schools of the township were invited to unite with the Pickering school in exhibiting domestic and agricultural products. Miss Anthony judged the domestic products, and Mr. Belting, the agricultural exhibits.

"The display of products, tho not large, was very creditable," says Miss Anthony. "This rural community is doing much in raising the standards of its people. It has held exhibits for the last three or four years, each time showing steady improvement in the character of the products shown."

In the afternoon a short program was given to a large audience. Mr. Belting gave a talk on the subject, "Agricultural Exhibits." Miss Anthony discussed the topic, "Standards for Domestic Science Displays." The program was followed by a basketball game between the Pickering and Bolckow school. Bolckow won.

These two instructors attended a similar meeting at the Lasher school, Friday, October 27.

President Richardson will visit the Caldwell County Association Friday, November 3. November 9th, 10th, and 11th, Mr. Hawkins and Mr. Colbert will visit the Worth County Association at Grant City. Mr. Richardson will visit the Platte County Association at Dearborn, Thursday, November 9. Friday, November 10th, he will visit the Ray County Association, and Saturday morning, November 11th, he will visit the Grundy County Association. Mr. Osburn will also be present at the Ray County Association Thursday and Friday, November 9th and 10th, and a similar meeting in Mercer County Saturday morning, November 11th. Another member of the faculty will be sent to the Mercer County Association on Thursday and Friday, November 9th and 10th.

Miss Anthony is delivering a series of lectures to the women of Parnell and vicinity. She has a similar engagement with the Women's Club of Jamesport.

After this the tired crowd walked slowly back to town, each with a store of happy memories sufficient to last till next "Walk-out" day.

"BEAR CATS" WIN AND LOSE

Normal Men Lose to Wesleyans at Cameron, But Win From the Highland, Kan., Laddies.

The Bearcats lost the second game of the season, October 20, to Missouri Wesleyan College at Cameron with a score 34-0. The Maryville men were simply outclassed. They showed a fighting spirit but could do nothing against their heavier and more experienced opponents. The Wesleyan team outweighed the Normal team about thirty pounds to the man in the line and from fifteen to twenty pounds in the backfield. Eberhart, the Cameron left end, was all-state end last year. They also had two all-state second team men on the line-up. Metz their fullback, who weighed 210 pounds, was the star of the game. He made big gains thru the Maryville line. Eberhart also was responsible for many of Wesleyan's gains and broke up many of Maryville's plays before they were started.

Captain Pickens won the toss and chose to defend the north goal. Wesleyan kicked off and Maryville made several good gains. Girard punted. In tackling the man running with the ball, Captain Pickens was knocked out. Bird took his place at quarter but Andrews called most of the signals. Cameron scored her first touchdown near the end of the first quarter but failed to kick goal. Cameron scored again in the second quarter on a touch down and kicked goal. Score, 13-0.

Pickens took his place at quarter at the beginning of the second half. Bird was shifted to left half. Lawton replaced Byerrum at tackle. Wesleyan scored two touchdowns during the third quarter and kicked goal both times. Their biggest gains were thru the left side of Maryville's line. Pickens was again taken out and Andrews returned to his old position. Cameron scored her fifth and last touchdown during the fourth quarter. The game ended with the ball in Cameron's possession on Maryville's 20-yard line. Score 34-0.

EDITORIAL.

Students, the 120-hour Senior Class will put out the first Annual for Number Five! This will mean much to you who are now students and also to former students and alumni. An Annual contains many things which an ordinary memory book cannot. It is with pleasure that you looked thru the pages of your High School Annual. It will be with more pleasure that you look thru the pages of the Normal Annual. You will again play the football, basketball, and baseball games. In one evening you will recall the various annual events and the important happenings of the entire year. Former students and alumni have watched with pleasure the rapid growth of Number Five in the past few years. Many have said, "Now all this school needs is an Annual." You who have said this have your wish. Think of what an Annual will mean to you and to the school!

GENTRY COUNTY CLUB.

There are among the 337 Normal students thirty from Gentry. These people wish it known that they are from a top-notch county and that they work for the benefit of Gentry County in the Normal and for the benefit of the Normal in Gentry County. A meeting was held Friday, October 20, at which the following ington passengers soon learned that a Normal bunch was out. The "Hoboes" or "Simpsons," who didn't know enough to ride, vigorously responded to yells from the "Riders." But all gave fifteen rabs for Maryville and a tired, happy bunch filled all available jitneys at the station.

Highland College, of Highland, Kansas, was easily defeated by the Normal at Maryville, October 27, by the overwhelming score of 47-0. Several changes were made in the lineup after the Missouri Wesleyan game. Pickens went from quarter to half and Andrews was shifted from half to quarter. Sawyers replaced Farmer at left end. Girard's fine plunges and Pickens' long end runs were the features of the game but the whole team showed a great improvement over the team that Missouri Wesleyan defeated the previous week. Highland was very weak on tackling and missed many chances to throw Maryville back for a loss.

Highland kicked off to Maryville who defended the west goal. After an exchange of punts, Maryville held Highland for downs and received the ball. The Normal rushed the ball down the field and Pickens went across for a touchdown. Girard kicked goal. Near the close of the first quarter Maryville scored again. Girard carried the ball across for a second touchdown and kicked goal. Score at end of first quarter 14-0. Maryville scored but once during the second quarter. Girard going across with the ball. He failed to kick goal. Score 20-0. During the third quarter Andrews and Girard both scored a touchdown. Girard kicked both goals. Null, the Highland quarter and the star of their team, was knocked out. The score at the end of the third quarter, 34-0. Maryville scored twice in the fourth quarter. Pickens and Girard each got a touchdown. Girard kicked one goal. Score 47-0.

ASSEMBLY NOTES.

Rev. Father Henry Niemann, pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic church of this city, addressed the Normal students at assembly Thursday morning, October 19. His subject was "The teacher and the teacher's work." The discussion was quite interesting and showed wide knowledge of the subject. The speaker laid emphasis on the high calling of teaching. To use his words, "This is a gift from God. The formation of character should be the primary aim." The child should be given a desire to live a higher and better life, a life of service to society. He must be taught reverence, purity and unselfishness. In order to inspire the building of character in others the teacher must be a strong character. He must cultivate a great heart. He must have faith in the goodness of the child and be sympathetic, earnest and enthusiastic.

Dr. E. L. Harrington told of college life at Harvard University Tuesday morning, October 24, at the assembly hour. His text was "The proud shall be brought low." it seems that the 'big heads' do not last very long at Harvard.

At Harvard great pride is taken in the old traditions, old buildings, and furniture. Altho it is not a co-educational institution, only two blocks away there is a sister college.

The graduation class shows no hint of snobbishness. Each student stands on his own merit. The Seniors have a unique way of obtaining money for their annual spring hike. Dressed in caps and gowns they stand in the yard begging from the Freshies. When a Freshie makes a contribution he is heartily cheered. Under the excitement of such an honor the Freshies sometimes part with large sums.

The activities of students vary from revelries to prayer meetings and on the whole the bad is balanced by the good. Each department has its own club for further investigation and improvement along its particular lines. Appointments to places on the college papers are ob-

Y. W. GIVES HALLOWE'EN PARTY

About three hundred Normal students and the members of the faculty attended the Hallowe'en party given by the Y. W. C. A. in the library of the Normal school, Friday evening, October 26. The room was beautifully decorated with yellow and black crepe paper and with witches, black cats and jack o'lanterns. All guests were masked and one could hardly tell "who was who." The evening was spent in playing games. The Philo quartet gave several numbers. A reading was given by Miss Claudine Woolen; Miss Elizabeth Sobbing and Mrs. H. B. Schuler told ghost stories, and Miss Vestina Sweat favored the audience with a piano solo. Refreshments of cider, pumpkin pie and cake were served late in the evening.

PHILO NOTES.

Thursday, October 19, was Philo Homecoming Day. The entire program was given by the absent Philos, who came home by way of letters, to assure us they are still with us in spirit if not in body. Altho not planned especially as a "pep" meeting, this was one of the most enthusiastic meetings of the quarter. To the new members especially, the letters were inspiring, showing as they did the writers' deep love for and loyalty to their old society. Letters from Misses Ivah Barnes, Anna Halasey, Mattie Dykes, Nellie Halasey, Carrie Coler, Villa Waller, and Messrs. Henry Miller, Ray McPherson, and William Utter. All are enthusiastic about their present work, yet each expressed a wish to attend Philo meetings. Several suggested that another Homecoming meeting be held during the Teachers' Association this week.

Mrs. Lawrence was a guest at this meeting. In a speech which she was invited to give after the letters had been read, she remarked upon the fact that the society had sent out a number of people who are excellent in letter-writing, a rather unusual accomplishment in this age. Mr.

Swinchart also gave a short talk, Sunday, October, 22, the Third Amendment to the Constitution was discussed by Eugent Bird at Harmony and Chas. McReynolds at Wilcox.

EUREKAN LOCALS.

Miss Nola Mitchell has returned to the Normal after a year's absence, to take out her Sixty-Hour diploma and complete the graduate course in Music in the Conservatory.

It was a sad day for the Eurekans when they had to give Miss Neva Wallace to the Latin department of the Fairfax High School.

Lowell L. Livengood, '16, who is teaching in the King City High School says that one of his most interested classes is a class of thirteen girls in Agriculture. Are all girls so interested in Agriculture?

Miss Floy Lyle, '14, is teaching in Comerio, Porto Rico. This is her third year there. Miss Lyle spent her summer vacation in Porto Rico.

Miss Celia Hutt, '14, is now one of the primary supervisors in the public schools of Seattle, Washington.

Oklahoma claimed one of our loyal members this fall. Miss Edna Dietz is teaching the fifth grade in Clinton.

Miss Hazel Wallace, '16, is primary teacher in Spickard, Mo.

Miss Mae Grawney, '15, always a "true blue" Eurekan, is for the second year a member of the high school faculty in Hunnewell, Mo.

Miss Jane Gladstone, '14, is now teaching Latin in the Grant City High School.

The surrounding community is beginning to realize the real worth of the Eurekans to such an extent that they are called upon to furnish talks and lectures upon various occasions outside of the school.

EUREKANS GIVE PROGRAM IN ASSEMBLY.

The Eurekan Literary Society gave an interesting program to the student body and faculty in Assembly Oct. 26. The first number was a piano number given by Miss Nola Mitchell. This was followed by a humorous reading, "Deacon Adams to his Son" given by Miss Claudine Wooley. Miss Brownye Helpley then sang two songs, "Mighty Lak a Rose," and "One Fleeting Hour." The next number was a little out of the ordinary. It was a dramitization of the story "The Three Bears." The bears were dressed in costumes which made them look very much like they were just new captives from the Rockies. They added to the idea by giving so many deep growls that Golden Locks, who was found sleeping in the Baby's bed fast asleep, was nearly overcome with fright, when they came snarling to her bedside. Few in the audience could understand the old familiar conversation carried on by the three bears and Golden Locks because it was given in Spanish. Those who took part in the dramatization were Clifford Hix, big bear; Harry Gillis, middle sized bear; Ross McReynolds, baby bear and Miss Myrtle Wells, Golden Locks. The program was concluded by a very deep and interesting talk by Chas. McReynolds upon the subject, "Our Methods of Seeing Happiness."

JAMES GODDARD PLEASES.

The Normal students were well pleased with the program given by James Goddard, soloist and Robert Yale Smith, pianist, at the Christian church, Thursday evening, October 19. Mr. Goddard has a wonderful voice and his selections were well interpreted. His program included songs which showed the range of his voice. Mr. Smith showed his talent as a pianist by interpreting four difficult themes. The artists were at a disadvantage in not having a grand piano. The following program was given:

THE SYNDICS OF THE CLOTH-WORKERS' GUILD.

The painting of "The Syndics of the Cloth-Workers' Guild," often called "The Cloth Makers," is a copy of the one made by Rembrandt, a Dutch painter of the seventeenth century. A copy of this painting is on the south wall of the library but the original is in Ryks Museum in Amsterdam. It represents the five chosen men of their guild sitting about a table casting up the account of the guild for the year. The treatment of light and shade for the purpose of expression, the heads in dark and the features in light, is such that one seems to see the souls of the workers. It is wonderfully simple, but the most noble, powerful and beautiful of his paintings.

Rembrandt studied art in Amsterdam for a short time but returned to Leyden and studied in his own way, from nature. Later, he opened a studio in Amsterdam, where he wished his students to develop their own individuality. Rembrandt has been called "The Shakespeare of Painting" and "The Prince of Etchers." He seemed inspired in representing the faces of the aged. Some of his paintings and etchings are, "The Night Watch," "The Anatomy Lesson," "The Sortie of the Banning Cock Company," and "The Descent from the Cross."

Rembrandt's art has triumphed, although only a line in the parish

PATTONSBURG WORK DAY.

The students of the Pattonsburg High School have what is known as the "Annual Work Day." The students engage their work before hand and when school is dismissed for that day they begin their work. This day is spent in various ways by the different students. The class bringing in the largest amount of money is allowed to put its banner in the assembly room. The student earning the most money is also given a banner. Friday, October 20 was Work Day for the Pattonsburg High School this year. The person bringing in the most money that night was Miss Smith, a Senior girl. Miss Smith earned a little more than ten dollars by blacking shoes. Two girls, as gypsy fortune tellers, tied for second place. Each had earned seven dollars. The total amount earned was $180. This is put into the general school fund. The students will do any kind of work. They will not accept money if the employer is not satisfied with the work done.

Work Day is followed with a free entertainment given by the High School students. Seventy per cent of the Pattonsburg population enjoyed the entertainment given Friday, October 27.

The board of education is quite liberal with the school. In the last few years electric lights and a piano have been installed. In three years the students have earned $500.

Miss Mabelle Patterson and Frank McCombs spent Sunday, October 22, at their home in Wileox.

Forrest Brown went to Gilman City, October 21, where he visited his parents.
